PRINTERS' FESTIVAL .- The Printers of Memphis had a "delightful re-union" on the evening of the 24th alt. The Enquirer says of it:

It was an "Oyster and Champaigne Party," given by the printers to the editors and proproprietors of the press of Memphis. About thirty of the "prese-gaig" were present, and everything passed off in the best possible style, and with a gental glow of kindly teeling, which made as wish for many more such "leus; of reas u and a flow of soul." No class of people harder than the "press gang," and a gay and glad-one festival now and then, with sentiment speech and song, to drive du't care away is their just due. Sometime about Ceristmas. the estimes and proprietors intend to give another grand "blow-out."

There is beyond doubt a foreign party in America. The Germans and Irish have organized political associations as Germans and Irish and not as Americans. They are opposed to Americanism. They deprecate American nationality. They have found that they were able to control by their mer cenary votes the last Presidential election, and they hope by a concentration of their strength, aided by the Anti American native born citizens, to continue to control all our State and national elections. They have even determined to do so by force of arms if necessary. Against this combination of foreigners the American party is contending.
